Structure of the single BA

Option 1

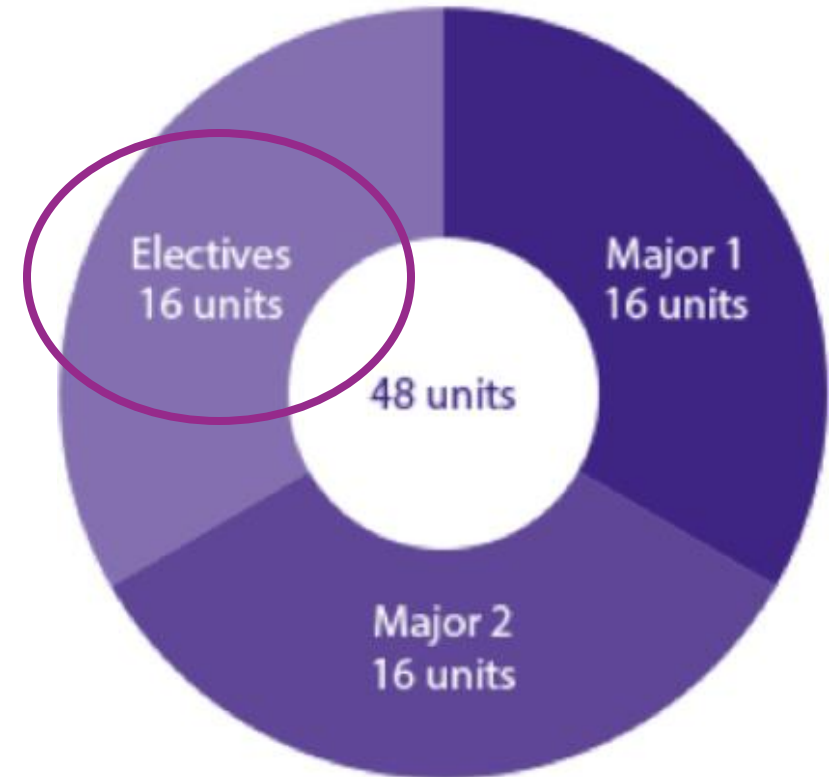

Option 2

What is a General Elective?

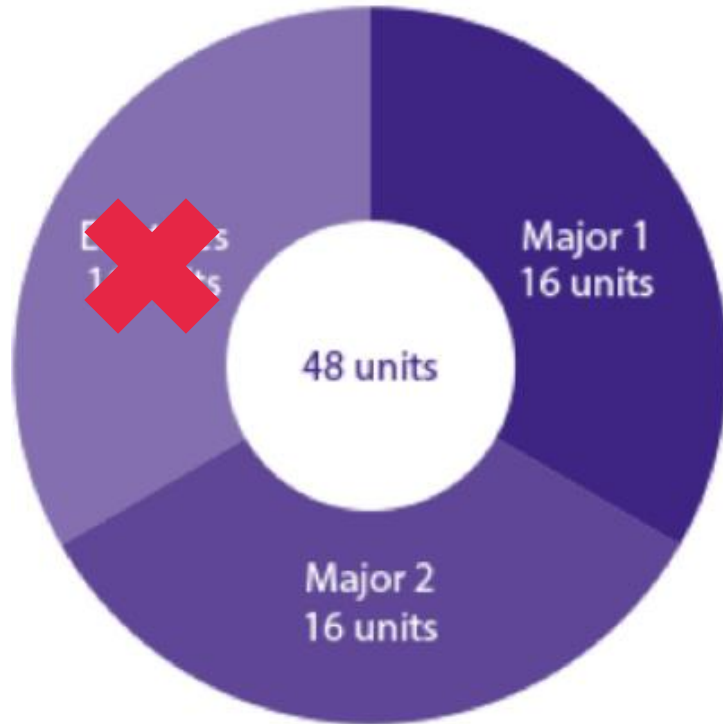

Courses that contribute to your degree, but not your majors, or extended major and minor.

- Can be from study areas outside of your majors, or extended major and minor
- Can also be used to complete another major or two minors or one minor and 8 units of electives
- Can take general electives outside the BA course list after completing 8 units from the BA course list
- Before attempting to enrol in an elective, check the pre-requisite requirements and/or restrictions that apply

Structure of dual programs – BA component

Option 1

Option 2

What to enrol in

Where do I start – Single BA

If you are in the Single BA, keep your options open and explore

Example: Mary wants to major in International Relations and Philosophy, but she is also interested in Music and Criminology. She picks one compulsory introductory course from each major, and two other introductory courses as general electives. All of these are compulsory courses for the different majors. This gives her the chance to explore four majors at once!

POLS1201
Introduction to International Relations

2 units

PHIL1002
Introduction to Philosophy: What is Philosophy?

2 units

CRIM1000
Introduction to Criminology

2 units

MUSC1600
Musicianship 1

2 units

Make sure to take Level 1 courses in your first semester, unless you have credit for prior learning

Where do I start – Dual degree

If you are in the dual degree, get your foundation right

Example: Xi is doing a Bachelor of Arts / Laws (Honours). In his BA, he wants to do an extended major in Art History and a minor in Sociology. He picks two introductory (Level 1) compulsory courses offered in Semester 1 for Law. Then he picks two introductory courses for his BA extended major and minor. This sets a good foundation for his study in future semesters.

LAWS1700
Foundations of Law

2 units

LAWS1703
Principles of Public Law

2 units

SOCY1070
Inequality Society and the Self

2 units

ARTT1105
Art in the Modern World

2 units

Remember to take level 1 courses

Where do I start

You can find your program requirements on the Bachelor of Arts page.

It is important that you are familiar with these requirements so that you complete the program you want in the relevant amount of time.

Don't forget the 8-unit rule when choosing your courses in the BA. This means your first 8 units must be chosen from BA courses. This includes course from BA majors and minors and BA program electives. You cannot choose general elective courses outside of these areas for your first 8 units.

PDF program planners are available on the Bachelor of Arts program advice page.
