Acknowledgement of Country

The University of Queensland (UQ) acknowledges the Traditional Owners and their custodianship of the lands on which we meet.

We pay our respects to their Ancestors and their descendants, who continue cultural and spiritual connections to Country.

We recognise Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples' valuable contributions to Australian and global society.

Key terminology

Enrolment

When you enrol in your courses for the semester.

Timetabling

When you select/preference your class times for each of your courses

Program

At UQ degrees are called programs (Bachelor of Arts, Master of Psychology)

Course

Courses are the subjects you study in your program (e.g., BIO2010 or ENGG2021)

Unit

Units are the value of individual courses. Most courses have a value of 2 units and a standard study load is 8 units per semester.

Course Coordinator

Each course is designed and planned by a Course Coordinator – they will often be the main lecturer for your course.

Key terminology

Course Profile

Each course has a Course Profile that contains important information about that course. Always read your Course Profile!

Compulsory and Elective Courses

Compulsory courses are mandatory for completing your program; electives are courses you can choose.

Major and Minor

A major combines courses in a program focusing on a specific discipline. Minors are similar, but require fewer courses.

Lecture

A lecture is a presentation delivered by an academic. This is where you'll be taught the theory of your course.

Tutorial

Tutorials or 'tutes' are held in a smaller classroom and involve more interaction between students and the tutor.

Contact Hours

The number of hours per week of teaching activities for a course (lectures, tutorials, workshops, etc.)

Important note for international Students

Standard Full-Time study load is 8 units (generally 4 courses) per semester

International students with a student visa have to complete their program by the end date on their Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE).

If you want to enrol in fewer than 8 units (4 courses), we advise you to speak with your Faculty in advance.

Blackboard/Learn.UQ

The screenshot shows the Blackboard/Learn.UQ interface for Week 1. At the top, there is a purple box with the text "Week 1". To the right of this box, the text "Week 1: What Makes a Story?" is displayed, followed by a paragraph: "What are the basic elements of a story told through any medium? It doesn't even have to be a good story. What is common to all stories? Whatever your medium, whatever your tale, your final project should have these key ingredients." Below this text, a progress bar indicates "1 of 6 completed". The main content area lists several items: "Week 1 Overview" (with a green checkmark icon), "Introduction to the course", "What a 7 looks like" (with a document icon), "LinkedIn Learning: Developing a mood board", "Week 1 Discussion" (with a speech bubble icon), and "Week 1 Summary". Each item has a brief description and a three-dot menu icon to its right.

Course description

JAPN1012 is a beginner-level Japanese course that students can take either at the same time as JAPN1011, or after completing JAPN1011. Students who have completed any JAPN2 or JAPN3 coded courses are not eligible to enrol in this course. JAPN1012 introduces approximately 72 kanji to students who are learning or have learnt hiragana and katakana scripts. The course develops foundational skills for functioning in everyday life in both written and oral Japanese; students learn to introduce, describe and discuss people, maps and locations, and physical environments. Students build cultural understanding and competence through engaging with a foreign language, and develop effective language study strategies.

Timetabling

Class allocation process

After you enrol, you'll need to plan your class timetable and enter your preferred class times.

You'll need to register your preferred times through My Timetable – our class allocation system. You can access My Timetable through your my.UQ dashboard (student login required).

Class allocation has 3 stages:

1. Timetable planning
2. Class preferencing
3. Class adjustment

More timetable information here

Making changes to your timetable

Once the system has created your timetable, class adjustment begins

During the “Class Adjustment” period you can:

- Review your allocated timetable
- Swap class times if there's a space available
- Add your name to a waitlist to swap
- Allocate yourself to classes you missed during the class preferencing stage.

My Timetable is currently open for preferencing!

Review your timetable as soon as you can. The earlier you swap or waitlist, the better chance you have of getting the timetable you want!

Timetable Help

If there are no suitable class times available, or if you need further help, contact the relevant faculty or school for advice. They'll be listed as the 'coordinating unit' in your course profile.

Academic Integrity Modules

Complete the Academic Integrity Modules

These modules are designed to help you understand your obligations and responsibilities as a UQ student. Academic integrity describes the ethical principles that underpin academia and student life.

Due Dates

- You'll need to complete:
 - ✓ Part A by 31 March (census date)
 - ✓ Part B by 29 May (week 13)

Access the modules

- Access the Academic Integrity Modules \(UQ login required\) via the UQ Library Webpage or my googling 'UQ Academic Integrity Modules' The modules are intended to be completed only once.
- Contact the UQ Library AskUs if you need technical help.

07

UQ Respect Module

Complete the UQ Respect Module

It is important that we all understand how we can contribute to a culture of consent and respect, and how we can best support someone who has experienced sexual assault or harassment.

Due Dates

- You'll need to complete the module by mid August

Access the module

- UQ Essentials via Respect At UQ - Respect - University of Queensland
- Contact the UQ Library AskUs if you need technical help.

IMPORTANT !!!

- If you do not complete the module by the deadline your Blackboard access will be removed.
- This means you will not be able to submit assignments, complete quizzes, or access lecture slides, recordings and tutorial materials.

This page provides an overview of the content covered in the Respect at UQ module. You can find more information about the module, along with frequently asked questions on the main Respect at UQ page.
