Structure of the single degree BA

OPTION 1

32 Units of BA Courses

16 Units of Electives

OPTION 2

What is an Elective?

Courses that allow you to customise your degree further.

- Can be from study areas outside of your Major or Minor (called General Elective)
- Can be more classes from your Major course lists (called BA Electives).
- You 'unlock' electives:
You MUST to take 8 units (1 semester) of required courses from the BA course list before you can start taking General Electives.

And here's where your degree gets REALLY powerful!

You can USE these electives to build or add another Major or Minors!

And, if you like them better, you can switch!
(anytime so long as you have room in your 48 units to still graduate on time)

Your BA just became the ultimate choose-your-own-adventure degree!

Structure of BA Dual Degrees

OPTION 1

OPTION 2

Where do I start?

For single degree BA, keep your options open and explore

Example: Kris: majoring in International Relations and Philosophy; but loves Music and Criminology.

They pick one compulsory introductory course from each area.

Kris decides Crim & Philosophy aren't for them: No problem, they switch to IR & Music majors and those Crim & Philosophy course acts as electives for their degree.

POLS1201

PHIL1002

2 units

Introduction to Philosophy: What is Philosophy?

CRIM1000

MUSC1600

Make sure to take Level 1 courses in your first semester, unless you have credit for prior learning

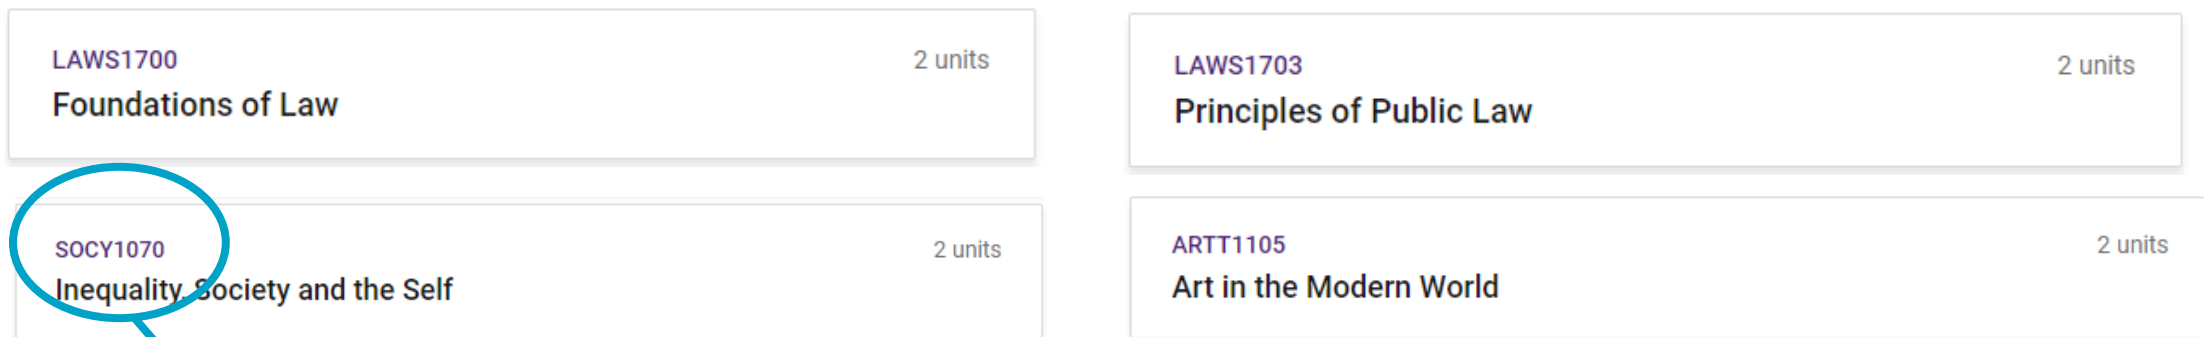

Where do I start?

For dual degree students, get your foundation right

Example: Xi studies Bachelor of Arts / Laws (Honours).

In his BA, he wants to do an extended major in Art History and a minor in Sociology.

He picks two introductory (Level 1) compulsory courses for Law, and two introductory courses for his BA extended major and minor (1 each).

Remember to take Level 1 courses
